

THE RACE IN RETROSPECT

The Fourth Annual 172.1 mile trek from snow to surf is now history. Congratulations and a warm thank you go out to all of you who participated in this run over demanding terrain. In comparison to the sweltering heat we have had in past years, this year's 80° temperature in Portland was a welcome relief. Feedback from other runners as well as the Race's Steering Committee indicated that the new staggered starts and increased number of volunteers throughout the course made for a smoother race. I feel that because of the cooperation which all teams gave us and the sophistication of our course logistics, we can allow the size of next year's race to remain unlimited.

We had 237 teams register for this year's race. Of those teams, 232 finished, 4 did not start, and one finished unofficially. This once again is a testimony of the incredible fortitude and dedication toward the goal of completing this adventure that all teams possess. There were fierce head to head competitions which took place between the first two teams overall as well as teams throughout the rest of the field. The true story in this race are the hundreds of war stories which all teams, fast and slow, will be retelling for months to come!

It is not really very important who is listed in the Sunday sports column as the "winner" of this race. That is because all of you who took part in the event are the true winners. You took on 172 miles of challenging terrain, blended 11 diverse spirits into one, and together conquered the challenge. All of you, I hope, have come out of this experience with a greater understanding of the drive and desire which burns within each of us. The warmth and magic of the friendships and camaraderie which develops between 11 people, all united for one common goal, can't ever be described to someone who has never participated in this event. You've been given a unique experience not available in road running as we know it today, and I hope you are a better person because of it.

1985 HOOD TO COAST SANDBAGGER AWARDS

The following teams are those which intentionally submitted times much slower than their 1985 "best" 10k's so that they could be seeded into early starting times. To put their efforts into perspective, every team finished at least 1 hour faster than the time they would have run if every team member ran every leg of the course faster than his 1985 "best" 10k pace. Because these teams unfairly took all of the early starting times, legitimately slow teams were forced to start at later hours. This resulted in early Sunday morning finishes for some teams. Fair and equitable seeding of all teams can not be possible without cooperation by all teams when submitting accurate 10k times.

All of these teams and team captains have been entered into our computer. In the 1986 race these teams and team captains will start together in the last starting time group. If team captains change teams, this starting time will apply to their new team. The following are 1985's "Best", along with, in () the number of hours and minutes they finished before their projected finish time.
